Investors Book

Who is who on the Ukrainian investment market 2017
During the two years of Association’s activity we’ve been building bridges between Ukrainian venture capital, private equity sectors and startup-ecosystems, private capital industries within Europe (both EU, and CEE states), USA, Canada, Japan, etc, nowadays we are still working on it.

In frames of such a communication we were always seeing the lack of relevant information about competitors and counterparties on the Ukrainian investment market. Today, we would like to introduce the new project of UVCA Research Committee - Investors Book.

We are building exceptional communications within the market, enabling Association to become an effective instrument for the industry. While working on the Directory we were reaching the leading and the most active market players. We encourage you to consider the current Book as MVP, and address me directly if there is anything missing at this stage.

We see the Book meeting the following goals:

I. Being the voice of private capital in Ukraine, UVCA aims at bringing the investment market players together and support collaboration between them.

II. We aim to educate the market by providing future entrepreneurs, startups and media with up-to-date information about fundraising opportunities.

III. The Research helps UVCA to be a gateway of the Ukrainian investment market for foreign investors in order to increase the awareness about country’s investment industry development and encourage private capital inflow into Ukrainian innovative companies.

We look forward to having your support of our current Directory as we are significantly depended on your contribution to let this project have a great success. And the last, but not least, thing is that we would be happy to see you among UVCA members to shape the market’s excellence together and prove that it is definitely worthwhile to INVEST IN UKRAINE!

1991 Open Data Incubator

About:
1991 Open Data Incubator is the first non-commercial Incubator in Ukraine that helps IT activists in solving national challenges which Ukraine is facing these days. Startups are encouraged to use open data owned by the government, business, or is generated by startups themselves to create data-driven decisions for key sectors of Ukrainian economy: public sector, healthcare, agriculture, energetics, infrastructure, etc.

Investment Strategy:
Nowadays 1991 doesn’t invest in a classic understanding. Instead, it plays a role of a matchmaker for startups, investors and grantors. Apart from personal investor-to-startup relations building, demo days being held every 3 months, 1991 Open Data Incubator is the key instrument of onnection between startups and VC community. Investment Strategy:
We seek to invest in private, mid-sized companies in Ukraine and the Region, targeting value-based investments. Our strategy is to identify high-quality management teams and capitalize on specific market opportunities in the fastest growing sectors of these emerging economies. The fund invests from $5 to $20 million in each of its portfolio companies, with investments to be used primarily for expansion opportunities. Within the mid-cap market, we prioritize two distinct subsets of opportunities: (1) Export Champions and (2) Domestic Champions. We also pursue selecting early-stage opportunities that are poised to capitalize on under-developed and/or rapidly changing sectors of the economy.
